BODY WORLDS

The Original Exhibition of Real Human Bodies

& The Story of the Heart

THE ANATOMY OF AN UNFORGETTABLE FIELDTRIP

The Leonardo invites you to take your students on an eye-opening journey through the inner workings of the human body when one of the most anticipated touring exhibitions in the world. Gunther von Hagens' BODY WORLDS 3: The Original Exhibition of Real Human Bodies visits The Leonardo in Salt Lake City beginning September 19, 2008. BODY WORLDS exhibitions have opened to critical praise and public acclaim in 45 cities around the world and has been seen by more than 25 million people.

Never before has an exhibition offered such an intimate look at the human body. BODY WORLDS 3 & The Story of the Heart presents a one-of-a-kind anatomy and physiology lesson.

- Featuring a unique collection of more than 200 authentic human specimens including whole-body Plastinates, organs and translucent body slices, and a special presentation on the heart.
- This unique exhibition offers students profound insights into the human body, health and disease, and the intricate world of the cardiovascular system.
- Students will explore the locomotive, nervous, respiratory, circulatory, cardiovascular, digestive and reproductive systems.
- See muscles, bones and tendons that help us move; study the organs that allow us to fuel our bodies.
- View the complex pathways of our vascular system, and gain a true understanding and appreciation for human life.

The human body specimens in the exhibition derive from people who have, in their lifetime, generously donated their bodies for Plastination, to specifically educate future generations about health.

Here are some comments left by parents and teachers at past BODY WORLDS exhibits:

"I took a group of students, grades 3rd through 6th, and I was so amazed! They enjoyed every part of it. The children asked great questions about the human body and I was able to find specimens that would answer their questions with great clarity. Words cannot describe the awesome feeling of seeing that exhibit."

"I have been three times and will be returning again with more of my family. From the youngest to the oldest, we have all loved it. What better way to show your kids how we work on the inside, and how it can affect the outside?"

The Leonardo will be a first-of-a-kind science and art museum where young people and adults explore the world from new perspectives, unlocking the boundless potential for creativity and innovation that lies within each of us. Located in the heart of Utah's capital city, The Leonardo is part of Library Square, a new civic and education center that already draws over 3 million visitors each year. While it will not officially open its doors for a few years, The Leonardo is able to bring Body Worlds, the biggest exhibit ever to visit the state, to the people of Utah and surrounding states this fall.
