Marshall Wright Joins The Leonardo Board

SALT LAKE CITY, June 20, 2005—The Leonardo at Library Square (www.theleonardo.org) today announced that Marshall Wright has joined the organization's Board of Directors.

Wright brings over 40 years of experience in engineering, marketing and management in the technology sector to The Leonardo Board. Wright has worked for Sperry Corporation, where he was the engineering manager responsible for the design of radar control systems for the Navy, and at Unisys (successor of Sperry), where he served as a marketing director. Wright recently retired as director of strategic planning and business development for homeland security programs at the Utah division of L-3 Communications. Currently, Wright serves as director of business development for the State of Utah's Governor's Office of Economic Development.

Wright is a member of several local business organizations that promote economic growth in Utah, and also serves as an advisor to the State of Utah's Center for Excellence Program, which funds emerging technologies and fosters business development partnerships between academia and the local Utah business community.

Wright holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Physics from the City University of New York, and a Master's Degree in Applied Physics from Adelphi University.

About The Leonardo

Inspired by Leonardo da Vinci—one of history's most versatile visionaries—The Leonardo will be a one-of-a-kind art, culture and science center that encourages visitors to explore subjects from new perspectives.

The Leonardo will open in the former Salt Lake City main library building on Library Square. From this exciting location, The Leonardo and the magnificent new City Library will create a dynamic public square for research and learning. The mission of The Leonardo, with its innovative art-culture-science approach, is to become a national model for exploration, discovery and invention.

Three founding partners have come together to develop The Leonardo: Global Artways (www.globalartways.org), Salt Lake City's arts education program; the Center for Documentary Arts (www.cdautah.org), and; the Utah Science Center (www.utahsciencecenter.org).
